

Defining Your Team & Setting Expectations

Team Approach builds strong and effective Partnerships

- Expertise contributed from each team member
- Balance between visionaries and realists
- Public/private/non-profit representation
- Broad spectrum of expertise
- Decision makers and implementers
- Political Influence
- Uniform voice in community

Team Contracts

As a group, create a team contract

- Establish Team Procedures
 - When do you meet, how do you communicate with each other, how do you set meeting agendas, etc.
- Identify Expectations
 - Determine work quality, team participation strategies, personal accountability,
- Specify consequences for failing to follow procedures and fulfil expectations.

Make you team contract as specific as possible.
